Once upon a time a little chicken called Chicken Licken went out for a walk. She walked all the way to the wood. It was a lovely autumn day and as she scratched and pecked about, an acorn fell down from a tree, straight on to her head. Chicken Licken was very shocked. She flapped her wings, gave a big loud ‘cluck’ and shouted out.

The sky is falling, the sky is falling!

Song 1. OH, CHICKEN LICKEN!

1 An acorn fell from the sky,
   It fell right down from on high.
   She got in a terrible flap!
   Oh, Chicken Licken,
   What was that?

2 An acorn fell small and brown,
   It made her jump off the ground.
   What on earth could it be?
   Oh, Chicken Licken,
   Deary me!

3 Repeat verse 1

Chicken Licken decided that she must go and tell the king immediately. So she rushed out of the wood and went off down the road. Soon she met Henny Lenny.

Good morning Chicken Licken, where are you going?

1 Somebody’s walking down the road,
    Looking smart from head to toe.
    Somebody’s walking down the road,
    I think it’s Foxy Loxy.

2 Oh, he looks such a charming chap,
    With a crisp white collar and a bowler hat.
    Oh, he looks such a charming chap,
    I think it’s Foxy Loxy.

3 Friendly and courteous without fail,
    With his whiskers fine and his bushy tail.

And all the way to his den.

Here we are!

Song 4. JUST A LITTLE ACORN

1 Just a little acorn
   To scare them all to bits,
   But as for Foxy Loxy,
   He just sat in his chair
   And licked his lips!

2 They thought the sky was falling,
   You should have seen them run,
   But as for Foxy Loxy,
   He just sat in his chair
   And said, ‘Yum, yum!’
3 They were a little silly
   Getting so confused,
   But as for Foxy Loxy,
   He just sat in his chair
   And had a snooze.
